LOCAL DISTRICT CONFERENCES TO ADJUST NEW WAGE SCALE

Miners in Bituminous Coal Districts Will Remain at Work Under Present Agreement Until New Adjustment is Made.

Chicago, March 25.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America today agreed upon a plan which is expected to maintain industrial peace in the bituminous coal districts of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It is settled that the men are to remain at work under the present agreement and adjust the new scale in local district conferences with the employers, abandoning, at least for this year any attempt to do so in a joint conference of the four states.

Arrangements were made today for a conference of Illinois coal operators and miners at Peoria, Ill., and it was said that conferences in other districts would take place immediately.

The wage agreements are made for two years. The present agreement expires April 1st. Both miners and operators assert that there is no danger of a strike.

"This means an end for the present of the four states conference," said W. O. Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers. "It may never be attempted again. I think there will be little trouble in the men and operators reaching satisfactory terms when they deal with each other in their own districts. We could have agreed during the long conferences here and in Philadelphia if it had not been for the unanimous consent rule. So many slight differences were represented in the large territory of the four states that there was always one man to object to any plan proposed."

The plan of the policy committee will be submitted to a referendum vote of the union. Meanwhile a circular will be sent to the locals bidding them remain at work under the scale in force.

GOVERNOR REFUSES TO REVOKE SUSPECTED MAN'S PAROLE

DES MOINES, Iowa, March 25.—Governor George W. Clarke today refused to revoke the parole of "Bill" Richards, the former deputy United States marshal who is in jail here charged with having been one of three masked men who attempted to hold-up and rob Mrs. H. F. LaFor, Monday night. The governor declared he had no grounds for sending Richards back to the state penitentiary to serve the remainder of his eighteen years term unless the prisoner is convicted in the present case.

STATE CONTINUES TO INTRODUCE EVIDENCE AGAINST JACK KOETTERS

CHICAGO, March 25.—The state today continued to introduce evidence in its case against John B. Koetters, accused of the murder of Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, a sixty years old widow who was slain by a hammer blow in a hotel here.

Witnesses testified that Koetters stated in Cincinnati in October 1912, that he did not have enough money to come to Chicago for a course in telegraphy and that in January 1913, he was in Boston renting a safety deposit box.

Love letters alleged to be from Koetters to Mrs. Kraft were read to the jury today. Most of them mentioned money and promises of marriage between the writer and Mrs. Kraft.

PRESIDENT WHITE APPEALS TO FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

CHICAGO, March 25.—An appeal to the federal government to take action to release "Mother" Mary Jones from imprisonment at Walsenburg, Colo., in connection with the Colorado labor troubles was made today by John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America and by the separate representatives of the unions of four districts—Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois—who have been in a wage conference here. The mine workers also protested against the attitude of the governor of Colorado and the state militia toward members of the union.

At noon tomorrow Chairman Henry will report a special rule providing for 15 hours of general debate on the repeal bill and allowing no opportunity for amendment of the measure. An attempt will be made to fix four hours as a limit of debate on the proposed rule. If this is accomplished, the first test vote will come late tomorrow afternoon on the adoption of the rule.

"Violation of Treaty."

The supporters of the president are prepared to argue that the exemption of American ships from canal tolls is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefoot treaty; that it is a form of subsidy to special interest and repeal is essential in order that the president may carry out his foreign policy.

On the other hand the opponents of the bill will declare that American shipping needs the free use of the canal, that trans-continental railroads fear the competition of free American ships and that to repeal the free tolls section would be "truckling to Great Britain" without exhausting diplomatic negotiations.

An effort will be made if the rule is adopted to press debate to a conclusion and reach a vote on the bill Saturday. If debate is prolonged, however, the final vote may go over until next week. In the senate today the feeling over the proposed repeal was demonstrated in debate precipitated by Senator Chamberlain, who called up his resolution requesting the secretary of war for information as to expense of maintaining improved waterways and canals within the United States.

President's View "Erroneous."

Senator Chamberlain declared that

PROSECUTION RESTS IN TRIAL OF TANNENBAUM

NEW YORK, March 25.—The prosecution rested its case late today in the trial of Frank Tannenbaum, who under the banner of the Industrial Workers of the World, led an army of the unemployed into several New York churches early this month.

Policemen who arrested Tannenbaum and members of his army after they refused to leave St. Alphonsus church on March 4th testified that after the men were denied admission they pushed the police aside and marched down the center aisle.

Two priests and several men and women members of St. Alphonsus church were other witnesses for the prosecution.

GOVERNMENT PUBLISHES PROMISED STATEMENT

RELATES DEALINGS WITH REVOLTING OFFICERS OF THIRD CAVALRY

Documents Reveal Errors Declared to Have Been Committed By General Paget and Secretary of War Seelye—Col. Seelye Tenders Reservation But Asquith Refuses to Accept It.

London, March 25.—The government published today its dealing with the revolting officers of the third cavalry brigade and the house of commons led another heated and disorderly session. Between the documents presented and the various statements drawn from the cabinet ministers the vital facts of the affair were made clear. They reveal a comedy, or tragedy, of errors, declared to have been perpetrated by Colonel Seelye, secretary of state for war and Sir Edward Paget, commanding the troops in Ireland. Colonel Seelye took all the blame upon his own shoulders. He frankly declared he had made a great mistake. His written assurance to General Hubert Gough that the government "must retain its right to use all the forces of the crown in Ireland or elsewhere to maintain order and support the civil powers in the ordinary execution of their duty, but has no intention of taking advantage of this right in order to crush political opposition to the policy or the principles of the home rule bill," was given without the knowledge of the cabinet and contrary to its policy. The war secretary tendered his resignation to Mr. Asquith but the premier refused to accept it. The government has withdrawn Colonel Seelye's guarantees, according to the statement made by Viscount Morley in the House of Lords and Sir Edward Grey told the house of commons the government's decision would be made known to General Gough tomorrow. Thus the situation with respect to General Gough and his 53 comrades who sent in their papers is still in a state of suspense.

May Yet Plan Demonstration.

The most important revelations of the day were to the effect that the government did plan an important military and naval demonstration upon Ulster. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, confirmed the reports that he had ordered the third battle-squadron and a torpedo flotilla to Irish waters but explained that when the military arrangements had been successfully carried out he countermanded the orders by wireless.

The blunder General Paget made appears to be in giving a practical ultimatum to the officers of the cavalry brigade to say whether they would take active service in Ulster or accept dismissal.

The cabinet on Monday framed a general statement of the officer's position and duty under the law and Colonel Seelye freely admitted his error was in yielding to General Gough's demand for a written assurance that the army would not be used to suppress the covenanters.

Premier Asquith's statements that the officers should return to duty unconditionally were made in good faith, since he learned of Colonel Seelye's amendments to the cabinet memorandum only yesterday afternoon. The prime minister made plain the government's position regarding the army to the house of commons, declaring he would not consent to the claim of any body of men in the service of the crown to demand assurances of what they would be required to do in circumstances which had not arisen.

Sir Edward Grey Speaks Strongly.

Sir Edward Grey spoke even more strongly. He said:

"The government is prepared at any moment to use force to whatever extent is required to make the will of the country prevail. That is a contingency which cannot arise for a long time and we will still labor to avoid it."

Much of the oratory in the debate in the house of commons tonight consisted of fiery denunciations of the military aristocracy. The government members were placed by today's revelations, but there remains a very strong and outspoken dissatisfaction with the whole affair among the radicals and laborites. Many think the matter would have been allowed to rest except for the almost unanimous attacks by the liberal press and boastings of the conservative press over what they speak of as "General Gough's victory."

All talk of a compromise on the home rule bill is for the time suspended. The conservatives hold that recent events have shown that no compromise is possible, except on the unconditional exclusion of Ulster. The liberals say that would not be compromise, but surrender.

Colonel Seelye's transfer to another cabinet post is predicted and the announcement and acceptance of the resignations of General Paget and General Gough would be no surprise.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CO. WILL ERECT $2,000,000 BUILDING

NEW YORK, March 25.—Popular belief that the parcel post has left the big express companies in hard straits was contradicted today by news that the American Express company would erect a two million dollar office building on lower Broadway. The building is to be 32 stories high and is to have a frontage of eighty feet on Broadway.

ASKS ATLANTA WOMEN TO PROTEST AGAINST FRANK'S EXECUTION

Jane Addams Writes to Woman Suffrage Leader—Frank's Counsel Will File Extraordinary Motion For New Trial.

Atlanta, Ga., March 25.—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, has written to Mrs. Emily McDougall, Atlanta club woman and leader in the woman suffrage movement asking Atlanta women to protest against the execution of Leo M. Frank, superintendent of the National Pencil company, sentenced to be hanged here April 17th, for the murder of 14 year old Mary Phagan. The Hull House leader in her letter which was made public here suggests that Atlanta women through their organizations or through petition seek to have the execution postponed pending further investigation to determine the guilt or innocence of the convicted man. Women's organizations here have taken no action on Miss Addams' suggestion.

Attorneys for Frank announced that they have completed an extraordinary motion for a new trial and that it will be filed shortly in the superior court.

Previous attempts to have the verdict reversed and the case remanded for a new trial have been made with failure. The extraordinary motion will be made on the ground of new evidence discovered of late:

JIMMY CLABBY MUST LIVE MODEL LIFE FOR THREE YEARS

Hammond Middle-weight Must Fulfill Agreement Made With Los Angeles Judge.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 25.—Jimmy Clabby, the Hammond, Ind., middle-weight fighter, who claims the middle-weight title, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement he entered into today. If he fails, he will have to serve a term of three years in jail and pay a fine of $500.

According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White, Clabby shall not drink, engage in controversy or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It is stipulated he shall not stay out all night.

TERRE HAUTE POLICE CHIEF AND OTHERS ARE INDICTED

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 25.—Indictments growing out of the recent street car rioting here were returned this afternoon. Chief of Police Edward Holler, Edgar L. Brown, a prominent labor leader and Hilton Redman, an attorney and politician are charged jointly in one indictment with conspiring to cause the riots for the purpose of causing injury to the property of the traction company. Their bond was fixed at $25,000 each.

In the course of the day no other press despatches were received but this one plainly carried the inference that the attack on Terre Haute had only begun.

Rebel advices here today were that Villa was attacking the outskirts of Terre Haute and that two thirds of the rebel army under the direct command of General Benavides were thus engaged.

Unconfirmed rumors had it that Villa had executed 200 federal prisoners and that in one assault 58 federales were killed and 200 wounded.

Constitutionalist sympathizers place a gloomy construction on the failure of detailed newspaper despatches to get through.

WILL NOT Execute Terrazas.

Washington, March 25.—Directors of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company today unanimously approved the agreement recently reached between Howard Elliott and Attorney General McKeynolds which prescribed the terms and conditions under which the New Haven system is to disintegrate. Chairman Elliott was authorized to call a special meeting of the stockholders in New Haven on April 21st, when formal action on the agreement will be taken.

SPECIAL VENIRE NEEDED TO COMPLETE MAYOR ROBERTS' JURY

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 25.—A special venire of 25 men was ordered to be in court here tomorrow morning when the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, charged with election frauds will be resumed. The venire of one hundred summoned when the trial started was nearly exhausted and only eight jurors, tentatively accepted by both sides, are in the box. Action in the state today in dismissing against Grover C. Smith charges of removing election ballots and illegally marking and voting them for Mayor Roberts in the last city election was said by attorneys to indicate that the state would grant immunity to other persons indicted with Mayor Roberts.

The Americans, Goldsmith and Donahue, as spies by the federal authorities, have been taken to Mexico City and their cases will be considered by the federal authorities.

Charge O'Shaughnessy in a report to Secretary Bryan confirmed the news that a preliminary loan of $10,000,000 pesos had already been obtained. It was pointed out that the resumption of interest payments on the foreign debt suspended last January probably would tend to make Mexico's foreign creditors less anxious over the security of their claims.

BAKER COUNTY GRAND JURY CRITICIZES GOVERNOR WEST

Baker, Ore., March 25.—Governor Oswald West was criticised today in a report by the Baker county grand jury for sending troops to Copperfield to suppress alleged gambling and disorder.

"We find that Sheriff Rand and

District Attorney Goodwin have enforced the laws," says the report.

"It is our opinion that calling out of the militia at Copperfield was entirely unwarranted and uncalled

STRAWN ESTATE ONE OF THE LARGEST IN HISTORY OF COUNTY

Values is Estimated at Figures From Half a Million Upward—Decedent May Have No Will.

As the late Julius Strawn was known as one of the wealthiest and possibly the wealthiest resident of the county there is naturally a great deal of interest in the question as to whether the decedent left a will.

It was stated yesterday that the closest relatives of Mr. Strawn had thus far made no effort to locate a possible will and that the safe deposit box owned by the deceased would not be opened for several days yet. In accordance with the law in such cases the box must be opened in the presence of an officer of the state. William H. Haigrove represents the state treasurer in matters of this kind here and said last night that he would be in St. Louis today and that he understood from the relatives that they had no desire to take any action at once.

Mr. Strawn's wealth is variously estimated at from $500,000 to $800,000. He was the owner of about 1,200 acres of Morgan county land, all located in the vicinity of Orleans or Alexander. He had residence and business property in Dallas, Texas, estimated to be worth $20,000 and was reputed to have $300,000 or more in loans mostly secured by real estate.

Should there be no will, under the law, administrators would be appointed by the county court and the property would be divided among the two brothers, David and Gates Strawn; the heirs of Jacob Strawn, a brother now deceased; and the heirs of three half brothers, William, James and Isaiah, now deceased.

CHURCH MAY MAKE EFFORT TO FOUND NEW UNIVERSITY

Decision of the Supreme Court of Tennessee Strips Methodist Episcopal Church of Control of Vanderbilt U.

Baltimore, Md., March 25.—Unless there is a possibility of an appeal to the supreme court of the United States in the suit of the Methodist Episcopal Church South against the trustees of Vanderbilt university in Nashville, Tenn., a strong effort will be made to found a new university whose control shall be wholly in the hands of the church.

Among the leaders of such a movement would be Bishop E. E. Hoss, president of the board of education of the Southern Methodist church, which has control of Vanderbilt university until the decision of the supreme court of Tennessee last week stripped the church of all authority or ownership.

Bishop Hoss who is attending the Baltimore conference, said today:

"The general conference will surely take steps to keep up its standards of education and found a university of its own, if it is robbed of Vanderbilt and the most likely course will be to take one of the present church colleges as a foundation."

AMOUNT EXPENDED ON PENSIONS WOULD BUILD 15 DREADNAUGHTS

BALTIMORE, March 25.—Captain William Fulam, commander of the United States naval academy, declared in an address here tonight that if the government expended as much money a year on the navy as it does on pensions, 15 dreadnaughts could be built annually.

He said that if as much money should be expended on battleships as had been spent by the country in pensioning since that system had been instituted a line of battleships, each 400 yards apart would reach for a distance of 1015 miles. The comparison was used of show, as said, that a large navy would shorten what wars there would be an perhaps prevent other conflicts, the pension rolls of the future thereby being reduced.

PERSONAL CONVICTIONS WIPE OUT PARTY LINES

the Canadian Pacific railroad, backed by other trans-continental railroads, was the "insidious influence" behind the effort to have the toll exemption repealed, but he acquired the president of yielding to any such influence. The president's view that toll exemption is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, Senator Chamberlain insisted, was an erroneous one.

"I never will stand on the floor of the senate," the Oregon senator declared, "and advocate that this government yield anything to Great Britain. That nation is universally understood to be not the friend of America."

Senator Chamberlain also assailed Andrew Carnegie and the Carnegie endowment for international peace, declaring that Mr. Carnegie's friendship for Great Britain was "treasonable." Senator Jones of Washington also joined in the discussion submitting for the record protest against toll exemption repeal.

Calls on Senator Stone

President Wilson kept pace today with his precedent shattering reputation and exemplified the human side of himself which he described in a talk to newspapermen a few days ago by motoring to the home of Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri who has been sick and having a chat about official business.

"The president," said Senator Stone, "merely dropped in on his way to the golf links. I have been laid up a long time and was eager to hear what was going on. The president told me about Mexico and we talked also about the canal tolls matter. It was mighty fine of him to suggest coming here."

Bar Foreign Convict Made Goods

After a vigorous partisan contest the house today passed a bill to bar foreign convict made or pauper-made goods from competition with the products of American free labor. VENERABLE CITIZEN CALLED BY DEATH

JACOB STOUT, AGED 80, ANSWERS FINAL SUMMONS.

Family Among the Early Pioneers to Illinois—Deceased Was a Veteran of the Civil War and Lost Leg by Shell from Battery—Coroner Held Inquest.

Jacob Stout, one of Morgan county's oldest citizens, and a veteran of the civil war, died suddenly Wednesday morning from heart trouble, at the home of his son, William Stout, northwest of Jacksonville. The family has long been connected with the history of this part of the country.

The funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock Friday morning from the family residence in charge of Rev. G. W. Flagg, pastor of Centenary M. E. church. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the members of the G. A. R. will take part in the exercises.

Coroner Holds Inquest.

A coroner's jury, composed of Arch Norris, foreman; Richard Leake, M. S. Harmon, W. A. Davidson, A. B. Smith and J. W. Woods, clerk, inquired into the circumstances of Mr. Stout's death and returned a verdict that death was due to stoppage of the heart, due to old age.

Only two witnesses were examined. William N. Stout and Mrs. Emma Stout, his wife. Mr. Stout's testimony in part follows: "The deceased had not been under the care of a physician for two years, as he thought that the medicine did him no good. He had trouble every other day for several years, but seemed worse the past year. He ate supper as usual last night and did not complain. At 4 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning he called me, saying that he was awfully hot and asked me to feel his head. I did so and found that there was a cold, clammy perspiration on his forehead. He complained of his breast and finally seemed easier for a while, then leaning over the side of the bed said he thought he would feel better if he could vomit. His voice was as strong as ever. I stepped off the house a minute and on returning told him that it had been raining, but he could not answer. I raised him up and after breathing a few times he died."

Mrs. Stout corroborated the testimony of her husband.

Born in Cincinnati.

In the Morgan County Album of prominent residents of Morgan county is given the following sketch of Mr. Stout: With the exception of six months when he was brought to Morgan county by his parents from the vicinity of Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was born March 7, 1825. Under these circumstances his chief interests have naturally centered here and while growing up with the country he has been closely identified with the matters pertaining to its development and progress.

Mr. Edgar Thompson and Miss Grace Hill of Virginia have been the guests of Mrs. Harry Herring. E. T. Gruber of Springfield was attending to business matters in the city yesterday.

Father Moves to Scott County.

Upon first coming to Illinois, Nathaniel landed with a capital of $50 and team of horses, which would at this day be considered of very little value. At the expiration of twelve years and preparatory to his removal to Scott county, he sold out for $10,000 and bought land from which he improved two farms. These also in time he sold and removed to a point near the Illinois river in Pike county where he began boating and was thus occupied until his death which took place when he was about 53 years old. His career had been more than ordinarily active and industrious and presented a fine illustration of the results of perseverance, labor and good management. His wife survived him about three years dying in the spring of 1853, when about 54 years old. The family consisted of five daughters and one son, Jacob.

Was Married Twice.

Jacob Stout was first married in Morgan county in 1843 to Miss Harriet Sprang, who was born here where she was reared and educated and who died in Wapello county, Iowa, Feb. 20, 1848. They had removed to Iowa after their marriage. There was one child born, a daughter Sarah, who died at the age of 24 years. Mr. Stout was married the second time, Dec. 24, 1849, to Miss Elizabeth Deaton. This lady was born near Jacksonville July 21, 1836, the daughter of Joseph and Sarah Deaton, who both died here, the father in 1860 at the age of 74 years and the mother in 1883, aged 75. The latter was a native of Virginia, from where she came to this county with her father, James Deaton in 1821 when but a few people had settled here. He was one of the earliest pioneers and became one of the most prominent men in the country.

He put up the first mill within its limits northwest of the present site of Jacksonville and became widely and favorably known. His death was the result of a fall from an apple tree. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Deaton had passed away prior to the decease of her husband; both were active members of the Methodist church and the first class meeting in the county was organized and held at their house. Their home was also the stopping place of the ministers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stout was the oldest of five children born to her father, two sons and three daughters, and she remained a member of the parental household until her marriage. She was the mother of seven children, Marshall, married Miss Mary E. Rawlings, Albert married Miss Ellen Parks, William Joseph married Miss Anna Leake, was a carpenter by occupation and lived in Beardstown. Lizzie A., Alta M., and Charles.

Loses Leg in Battle.

At the outbreak of the civil war, Mr. Stout on the 2nd of Sept. 1862 enlisted in Company G, 101st Illinois Infantry commanded by Capt. Coffman. They were assigned to the 11th army corps and for a time under General Howard. Later they were consolidated under the 20th grand army corps under Grant and Sherman and took part in the siege of Vicksburg and was one of four companies captured by the rebels. He next fought at Chattanooga and was with his regiment near Resaca, May 14, 1864. The following day he was struck by a shell from the battery, which was playing upon the infantry having his right leg torn from his body. He was conveyed to a hospital where he was confined several months, when he was sent north and received an honorable discharge, Jan. 1, 1863. He also suffered considerable from sickness.

He was a straight Republican and served also as Justice of the Peace and a member of the G. A. R. He and his wife were members of good standing of the Methodist church in which he as a trustee was a chief pillar. His father was a soldier in the Black Hawk war.

JACKSONVILLE NATIONAL BANK DIRECTORS PASSED RESOLUTIONS

Special Meeting Held Wednesday at Which Tribute Was Paid to Memory of Julius Strawn, So Long an Officer of the Bank.

A special meeting of the directors of the Jacksonville National Bank was held Wednesday at which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas—Our worthy and esteemed friend, Julius E. Strawn, a director of this bank for thirty years, and its President from January 10th, 1905 until December 10th, 1913, has passed from this earth, and feeling it to be our sad duty to place on the records of this institution, some expression of our appreciation of him as a personal friend and former officer and citizen, therefore be it resolved: that in the death of Julius E. Strawn, the state has lost a worthy citizen, the officers and employees of the bank a sincere and valued friend, and the bank a judicious and valued supporter.

Resolved:—that the uniform course of the long life of Mr. Strawn has been one—in many respects—worthy of imitation. He was possessed to a large degree, of a mind clear in its workings, methodical, certain and practical in its conclusions. He was considerate of others, but firm of purpose when he had decided on his line of action.

He was always interested in educational matters, as was evidenced by his generous gifts to our local colleges. His judgment as to the value and character of his fellow men, with whom he came in contact, was clear and sound. By prudence and the exercise of good judgment in his business affairs, he was enabled to amass a large fortune, which, he has left to others; but he left also that which is of more value than money—a reputation unsullied and without just reproach.

Resolved:—that we respectfully tender to his bereaved family the sympathy of the directors, officers and employees of the institution over which he so long presided.

Resolved:—that the secretary of the board be directed to spread these resolutions upon the records of the bank, to furnish a copy of them to the family of the deceased and to the city press for publication.

HEARING IN PROGRESS FOR HARRIS ACCOUNTING SUIT

New Document Added to Files Indicates Settlement of Partnership Affairs in 1903.

The taking of evidence before Master in Chancery John F. Clark in the suit of Mrs. Almarinda Harris vs. Andrew J. and Andrew O. Harris, was begun Wednesday. In this suit Mrs. Harris has asked for an accounting of the farming and live stock business conducted by the defendants who are respectively her husband and son. The case was referred to the master for the taking of evidence by the circuit court.

Mrs. Harris is asking for an accounting of transactions dating back to 1878 maintaining that she was a partner with her husband and son in their somewhat extensive operations during that long period. Mrs. Harris was on the stand much of the day and the questions asked by the attorneys for the defense sought to show there was no basis for her claim that she had contributed quite largely toward the funds used in carrying on the business operations of Mr. Harris and his son.

1903 Agreement Introduced.

The defense introduced a document drawn in 1903 and signed by Mrs. Harris in the presence of M. M. Finney, as notary public. This document goes on to show that all partnership affairs between Mrs. Harris and her husband were settled up at that time. In view of the fact that the complaint is alleging transactions over the period dating from 1878 the introduction of this evidence came as something of a surprise.

On the witness stand Mrs. Harris acknowledged that the signature was hers, but maintained that she signed the document, which was presented by her husband, without giving special attention to its contents or understanding the meaning thereof. This document, which was made a part of the records in the case, and which as stated, is attested by M. M. Finney, as a notary public, is as follows:

This agreement, made and entered into this 9th day of April A. D. 1903, by and between Almarinda F. Harris, of Morgan county, Illinois, party of the first part and Andrew J. Harris, her husband, party of the second part:

Witnesseth: That, where, the said party of second part by his certain deed, of even date herewith, has conveyed to the said party of the first part certain real estate, situated in Morgan County, Illinois, comprising, altogether, two hundred and twenty four and 333-1000 (224,363) acres, more or less, for the consideration as expressed in said deed, of twenty two thousand, four hundred and thirty eight dollars ($22,438);

And, whereas, also, it was of the consideration of the said deed that the said party of the first part should relinquish and convey to the said party of the second part all her interest in any and all livestock, farming implements and farming utensils and other chattels now owned by her and her said husband, as partners or otherwise, and should also relinquish and convey unto the said party of the second part all her contingent interest, as wife of the said party of the second part, in his estate, both real and personal.

Now, therefore, the said party of the first part, for the consideration aforesaid, and the sum of one dollar to her in hand paid, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, does, by these presents, bargain, sell, convey and deliver unto the said party of the second part, all her right, title and interest in any and all livestock, farming implements and farming utensils, and other chattels and property heretofore, or now owned by her and her said husband as partners; and does also hereby release and relinquish unto the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators, trustees and assigns, all her right and interest of every kind and nature whatever, and especially her contingent right of dower in all real estate now owned by the said party of the second part, or of which he may hereafter become the owner, or to which he may hereafter become entitled, and does hereby covenant and agree to and with the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators, devisees and assigns, that if she shall survive the said party of the second part, she will not sue for, claim or demand any right of dower or other interest whatever, in or out of any and all real estate of which the said party of the second part may die seized, or to which he may be entitled at the time of his death, either in possession, reversion, remainder or otherwise.

And the said party of the first part, for the consideration aforesaid, does also hereby remise, release and relinquish unto the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators and legatees, all right, title and claim in and to all distributive share or portion of the personal estate of which the said party of the second part may be entitled; and does hereby covenant and agree to and with the said party of the second part, his heirs, executors, administrators and legatees, that if she shall survive the said party of the second part, that she will not sue for, claim or demand any distributive share, widow's award, or other interest whatever, to which she might be entitled as the surviving wife of the said party of the second part, in and out of any and all personal estate of which the said party of the second part may or shall die possessed, or to which he may be entitled at the time of his death.

The said party of the first part does further covenant and agree with the said party of the second part, that during their joint lives, she will, at any time, on reasonable request, join with the said party of the second part in the execution of any conveyance of any real estate of which he, the said party of the second part, may be seized, or to which he may be entitled in any manner, and will, on reasonable request, make, execute and acknowledge a formal release and relinquishment of her contingent right or interest in the real estate of the said party of the second part.

In witness whereof the said party of the first part has hereunto set her hand and seal, on the day and year first above written.

Various Suits Pending.

It will be remembered that a number of cases now on the docket of the circuit court have resulted from the misunderstanding between various members of the Harris family. Mrs. Harris brought suit for damages against her husband and son, a suit against the same parties asking for an accounting, and a divorce suit against her husband. In addition to these cases there is a partition suit brought by Andrew O. Harris against his mother and his half brothers, William Walter and John Wesley Robinson, maintaining that he has an interest in a certain farm in the Prentiss neighborhood.

The partition suit at the last term of court was also referred to the master in chancery and the taking of evidence thereon will begin today as the attorneys wish a little more time before continuing the hearing in the suit for an accounting. Messrs. Barber and Barber and William T. Wilson are appearing for the defendants in the suit for an accounting and Mrs. Harris is represented by Bellatti and Bellatti and William N. Hairgrove.

QUICKLY PUTS A QUIETUS ON COUGH OR COLD.

You save money when you buy Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, because only a few doses are needed to check a cold, stop a cough, and soothe the raw inflamed surfaces.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has always been a favorite family medicine with particular people, because of the entire absence of opiates or harmful drugs, because it is mildly laxative, instead of being constipating and because delicate persons and children take it without its ever disturbing the stomach in any way. It has superior healing qualities, and is quickly and thoroughly effective for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, la grippe and bronchial coughs, stuffy wheezy breathing, and for any sore or inflamed condition of the throat and lungs. So many people who do not cough at all during the day time, find themselves unable to sleep owing to a tickling throat and hacking cough. A few sips of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will entirely relieve this condition. It is also excellent for the chronic coughs of elderly people. In 25c, 50c and $1.00 sizes. The genuine is in a yellow package. Remember the name, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and do not accept any other. For sale by City Drug Co. J. A. Obermeyer.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S

TONGUE IS COATED

Mother! Don't Hesitate! If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt—Adv.

The Clucking Hen

BY WALT MASON

The old gray hen has thirteen chicks, and around the yard she claws and picks, and toils the whole day long; I lean upon the garden fence, and watch that hen of little sense whose intellect is wrong. She is the most important hen that ever in the haunts of men a waste of effort made; she thinks if she should cease her toll the whole blamed universe would spoil, its institutions fade. Yet vain and trifling is her task; she might as profitably bask and loaf throughout the year; one incubator from the store would bring forth better chicks and more than fifty hens could rear. She ought to rest her scratching legs, get down to tacks and law some eggs, which bring the valued bucks; but, in her vain, perverted way, she says, "I'm derned if I will lay," and hands out foolish clucks. And many men are just the same; they play some idle, trifling game, and think they're sawing wood; they hate the work that they're in demand, the jobs that county they cannot stand, and all their toll's no good.

MRS. DANSKIN INSTRUCTS VOTERS.

Sterling Gazette: Mrs. Lillian Danskin of Jacksonville addressed a mass meeting of women in the Presbyterian church, about 150 being present. Mrs. Chas. Sagie presided and Mrs. Evelyn Marsh read a scripture lesson and offered a prayer. Mrs. Muriel Price Phelps led the singing.

Mrs. Danskin explained the methods used by the Jacksonville women in their organization for the wet and dry fight there last fall. They succeeded in getting out a vote of over 3,600 women from a possible poll of 4,000, most of them voting before noon and many of them by 10 a.m. They kept up a record of two minutes in most of the voting places during the earlier hours of the day. The Jacksonville women had a distinct organization of their own, with a women's headquarters and their own carriages and autos.

SOME RECOLLECTIONS OF THE GREAT REBELLION

(By Capt. J. M. Swales.)

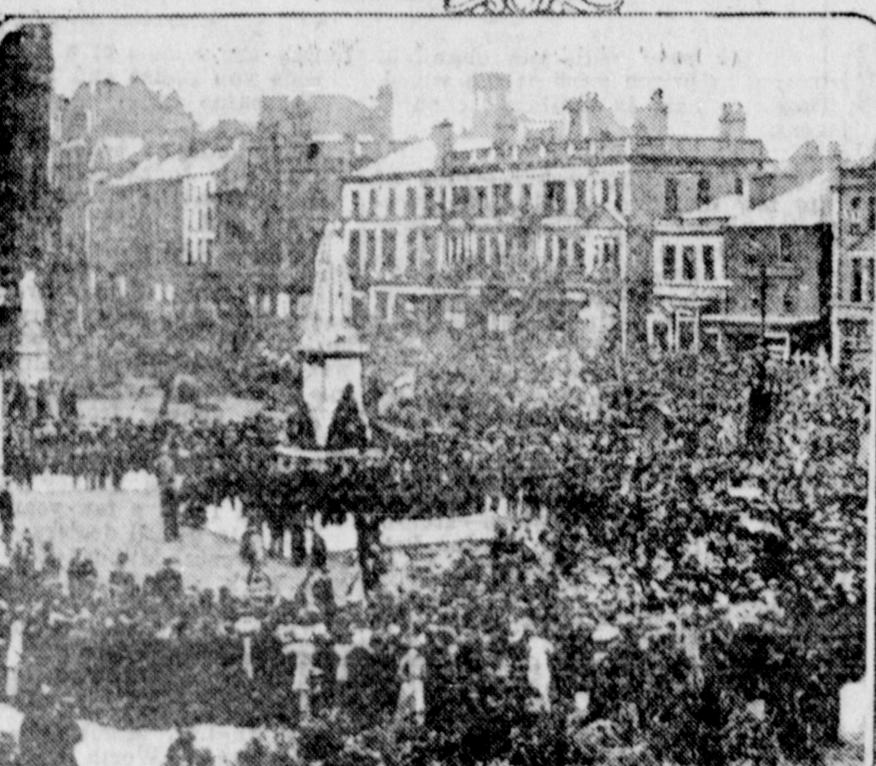

(Continued from March 22.) There were times during the siege when it looked as if it were hopeless to try to hold the city longer in the face of the overwhelming odds that seemed to be against the garrison. The struggle against starvation and surrender were the main desperate conditions that confronted us day after day, week after week, month after month, until the last glimmer of hope almost seemed to have left but the troops and their commander were made of the kind of stuff that did not recognize the meaning of the word surrender and they held on and still on until finally Rosecrans came from Louisville at the head of Buell's army which had but recently fought and won the battle of Perryville. With the arrival of old "Rosy" came an abundance of good old coffee, sugar, hard tack, and the sides and lower part of the female swine's anatomy, luxuries which we had been deprived of for several weeks. The siege had been raised, likewise our hopes and aspirations, and we soon forgot the hunger and fierce hardships incident to a long siege in this hotbed of double distilled treason and rebellion for Nashville was the very acme of secession and all the hellishness that followed in its train from Sumter to Appomattox. Hundreds of our soldiers were assassinated during the time we were penned up in that place and it was extremely dangerous for a soldier to walk alone, night or day, during the siege. They surely hated us most cordially and the feeling was reciprocated just as cordially, if not a little more so.

Just at a time when conditions were most desperate Col. Tillson of the Tenth, ordered a detail of three men from each company and to report to him for instructions. I was selected to take charge of the men. His orders were for me to go up to the business section of the city and compel every able bodied man regardless of color, to fall in line and to bring them into camp. Of course all of them pleaded that they could not leave their places of business, but excuses were of no avail. "Fall in" was the order and they fell in. Resistance was futile, and if any attempted to resist there was persuasive eloquence of cold steel, the man behind the gun to enforce the order. When the detail returned after executing the order there must have been 600 or more men of various ages, color and different occupations. There were bankers, bakers, hotel keepers, barbers and a miscellaneous assortment of loafers, etc. It was the most cosmopolitan aggregation of humanity that I ever saw. The object of the federal officials was to use the gathering to strengthen the works that surrounded the city and while they did not work as if they loved their job they worked just the same, for it was a case where beggars could not be choosers and martial law was supreme in the capital city of Tennessee. The next day there was something doing. General Joe Wheeler and N. B. Forrest attacked us in front of Fort Negley and other parts of the line, but after some fierce fighting they were repulsed and withdrew in the direction of Murfreesboro and the flag of the Tenth continued to wave over the ramparts of Fort Negley. It was important to hold Nashville for it was the gateway and the key to territory yet practically untouched by the federal armies, but soon to experience the horrors of war in all its heinousness and barbarism, for the great conflict at Stone River was only a few short weeks in the future where Rosecrans and Bragg were to strive for the mastery in a field where 13,259 boys in blue were to be sacrificed upon the altar of their country, for this mighty conflict was one among the 12 greatest and bloodiest engagements that saddened southern soil during the four years of blighting, devastating, wasting war. Among the troops that came to our relief from Louisville was the 115th Illinois Infantry, commanded by a Methodist preacher, named Jesse H. Moore, who, when the toe of war called him, was a member of the Illinois M. E. conference, and was stationed at Decatur, where he was saving souls and calling people to repentance and the higher and better life. The ministry seemed to have lost its charm for him and in during that whirlwind of excitement and turmoil, so he would join the fighting phalanx and instead of saving souls would go down south and help destroy a few. He never had any military training but in a great many cases that was a secondary consideration. A man who could fight the world, the flesh and the devil, as Rev. Mr. Moore had done as a minister, surely could stand a few rounds with the enemies of his country. So, instead of Rev. Jesse H. Moore he became Col. Jesse H. Moore, fighting parson of the 115th Illinois. Company I, of this regiment was recruited in and around Jacksonville during the second year of the war. The boys were comparatively new at the game and when they reached Nashville some of them were fit for the hospital. Among the number was Henry B. Jordan, who had lived most of his life in good old Ebenezer, a few miles northwest of Jacksonville. We were boys together and used to attend the same Sunday school in those far off days—days when war was not—when the dove of peace hovered over the land and good will and peace prevailed. While in the hospital knowing that my regiment was in Nashville, he sent for me, and when I went to see him I found him literally burning up with a wasting fever. I was with him several times and happened to be there when the end came. Just before he passed into the unknown and unexplored land beyond the dark river he told me to tell Alice (his wife) that he had been faithful to the last and his dying wish was that she might Belfast, the capital of the province of Ulster, in the north of Ireland, was the storm center of the critical events which followed the rejection of Premier Asquith's compromise on the home rule bill by the Ulster Unionists. The city seethed with excitement. The strengthening of the British garrisons in that end of Ireland did not lessen the fiery feeling. Illinois College Pays Tribute to Member of Former Board of Trustees.

At a special meeting of the board of trustees of Illinois college, held Wednesday, March 25, the following resolutions were passed:

The trustees of Illinois college, desiring to perpetuate an expression of their appreciation of services rendered to Illinois college by Julius E. Strawn deceased, and of their realization of the loss which the college and the community has sustained by his death, order that the following tribute to his memory be spread on its records:

As an alumnus of Illinois college, from the day of his graduation in 1861, until the day of his death, Julius E. Strawn never forgot his Alma Mater. He gave his hearty support to every effort made by the friends of the college to strengthen its fiscal foundations, or to promote and extend its influence as an educational institution; he counseled with, and encouraged the instructors of the college; he warmly commended it to his younger friends, seeking a liberal education; he was the friend of the college at all times, and in all places.

As a member of the board of trustees from the year 1876 to the day of his death he was faithful, earnest and prudent in the discharge of the duties of the office, a wise counselor, positive and prompt in his approval, or disapproval of any proposed action of the board.

As chairman of the board of trustees for a period of several years, he not only presided over its councils with dignity and courtesy, but was also active in carrying into execution the resolutions and plans adopted by the board.

As chairman of the endowment committee and as a member of the finance committee, his services to the college were invaluable, distinguished by unusual sagacity and prudence.

As a friend of education, his views were broad and he was a liberal supporter and friend of other and kindred institutions of his home city.

As a citizen he gave close attention to all matters affecting the welfare of the nation, the state, and the city of his residence and was outspoken in his criticism or approval of the actions of public men, speaking his own opinions, formed after studious deliberation, and never controlled by partisanship.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JULIUS STRAWN

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO MEM-ORY OF WEALTHY AND PROM-INENT CITIZEN.

Funeral Address Was Made by Dr. A. B. Morey, Long Friend and Pastor of the Deceased—Minister Emphasized Mr. Strawn's Generosity of Spirit Shown Particularly to Those Who Knew Him Best.

The funeral services held Wednesday in memory of the late Julius Strawn, accounted the wealthiest citizen of the county, were very largely attended, the spacious rooms of the Strawn home on West College avenue being filled with friends and relatives. The cortège which moved to Diamond Grove cemetery following the service at the house was one of the largest in the history of the county.

The assemblage of relatives and friends included officers and employees of the Jacksonville National bank and representatives of the board of trustees of Illinois college. The services were in charge of Dr. A. B. Morey, who was for many years Mr. Strawn's pastor, assisted by Rev. Howard D. French, present pastor of State Street church. The singers were Mrs. William Barr Brown, Jr., Mrs. Percy Jenkinsen, John L. Johnson and E. A. Hearn.

Rev. Mr. French read passages of scripture suited to the occasion and then Dr. Morey paid a tribute to the life and character of the deceased and pointed out some wholesome truths as related to wealth and poverty. Dr. Morey had known Mr. Strawn long and intimately and in giving his estimate of the man did not indulge in fulsome praise, but emphasized the generous spirit and inclinations which were not always shown to the outside world. The minister had through the years found much to honor in Mr. Strawn and dwelt upon his strong Christian manhood.

When the house services had ended the massive bronze casket was borne to the hearse by eight colored pages. The bearers were Judge Edward P. Kirby, Judge T. B. O'rear, Dr. Joseph R. Parker, Andrew Russel, Miller Weir, Dr. J. W. Hairgrove, J. Tabor Mathews and Harry M. Capps. The many floral offerings were cared for by Mrs. Charles E. Dickson, Mrs. Joseph A. Brown, Mrs. J. G. Strawn, Mrs. J. Frank Strawn and Mrs. Ida Strawn.

Among the relatives here for the funeral were John Strawn, Franklin Clifton Strawn, Waverly; Joel Strawn and family of Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strawn, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strawn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strawn, Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Strawn, Jacob Strawn, Harry Strawn, Strawn's crossing; Mrs. Pearl Kumle, Andrew Harris, Jr., Mrs. William Cleary and daughter, Mrs. Hills of Toledo, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred King, Springfield; Mrs. Charles Strawn, Lincoln; William Thompson, St. Louis; Mrs. Martha Walbaum, E. K. Duncan and Miss Phoebe Strawn of Asland.

Dr. Morey in his address said:

Mr. Strawn Gave Freely.
Another valuable life in our city has come to its earthly end, a life that was understood by only a few though prized by many. Because of his benevolence he was sought after. That is a great compliment to any man. It implies that he is generous that people believe that he has an interest in them.

Mr. Strawn was all the time giving away money. He gave much that the public never heard of, gave through a third person so that he would not be known as the giver. He loved to give. When he consecrated himself to God he had given him as a sacred trust and must be put where it would do the most good. In many cases he refused the demands made upon him because he did not see any promise of good in them.

The ability to distribute wisely is the difficult task laid upon a man of means. It is almost impossible to give money to the individual without danger of pauperizing the individual. It is not easy to give money to a community without danger of pauperizing the community. Using money wisely is more of an art than getting money to use. It requires more brains and a bigger heart to spend money as it should be spent than to gather it in the first place. There are so many unworthy objects and so many worthy and helpful deeds that money can do ranging from the purchase of a wheel chair for a cripple to the support of a college or hospital that it takes a well trained head to know what to do and where and how.

And yet in the midst of the misery all around us every one who has a spark of sympathy in him will want to do something. Everyone who has any surplus of money and a grain of humanity comes under the law of God by which, like the highest branches of a tree, he must take the burnings of the sun and shade the ranches that are lower. The fall trees must protect the weak plants beneath them.

"Money and Philanthropy Twins."
Money and philanthropy are twins, Heaven born, two children of help and beauty—each belonging to the other. Mr. Strawn felt that his work was just as much under the care of heaven as that of the pastor and his mission of making money is just as sacred. We all need money and the money-maker can preach the gospel of good will more effectively than the preacher can do it. A noble deed is better than a noble word. The word may incite to the deed, but the business man who leads a true, pure life will take as high a place before God as the preacher who told him how to be pure and true. A world is fast coming to that divine standard of worth—judging a man not by the amount of his wealth but by the intent what he does with it. It is not what we get but what we give that marks the grade of humanity to which we belong.

A man's ledger does not tell how much he is worth. It is the heart that makes a man rich. He is rich or poor according to what he is, not according to what he has. A man's worth in the world is not determined by what is on him but by what is in him. For in the sight of God it is not what we take up but what we give up that makes us "rich toward God." That is only the kind of riches that counts. It is that spirit of genuine generosity that makes Mr. Strawn remembered and why we love to remember him.

We all instinctively recognize the supreme worth of such charity. We think little of men, however much money they may have, who live for their own comfort. We think everything of those who live to serve others. In all ages, in all countries, sympathy, sacrifice, service have been venerated. Such liberal-hearted men are seldom understood. Their motives for giving and refusing are misunderstood.

Rich Do Not Understand Poor.

"Riches throw a glamor over the rich. They are not seen straight; like a stick at the bottom of the stream, it is twisted by the reflection of the light. Neither do the rich understand the poor. Riches the world. Do those who pass for fortunate, like the eclipse of the moon, it is dark by our planet shutting off the light. That is one great disadvantage of being rich. GREAT FLOODS SWEPT OHIO JUST ONE YEAR SINCE

Dayton Was Greatest Sufferer and Has Accomplished Wonders in Work of Rebuilding.

Dayton, O., March 25.—One year ago today marked the beginning of the great floods which devastated almost the whole of Ohio and Indiana and parts of Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, Kentucky and several other states. In the loss of life and property Dayton was by far the greatest sufferer of any of the cities that were covered by raging waters. In twelve months the city has accomplished wonders in rebuilding the structures that were destroyed by the flood and the great fire which accompanied it. Today the citizens of all classes joined in solemn services in memory of the men, women and children whose lives were lost in the catastrophe. At the same time flags were displayed on many buildings in celebration of the progress that has been made in rehabilitating the city.

It was the middle of March of last year that the central states were swept by a series of terrific cyclones and tornadoes, which were followed by fire or six days of torrential rains. As late as the evening of March 24 the situation was not regarded as alarming, although floods were already imminent over the northern slope of the Ohio basin in the states of Ohio and Indiana. The downpour of rain throughout this section was the heaviest ever known.

During the night of March 21, all of the streams of Ohio and Indiana passed their flood stages, and within 24 hours many of them reached record-breaking heights. On the morning of March 25, one year ago today, the people of Dayton awoke to find that the Miami river had reached a height of 8 feet above the highest figure previously recorded.

The breaking of the levees resulted in the inundation of two-thirds of the city, including the whole of the business section. Many places were under 20 feet of water. For several days some 75,000 people were marooned in the upper stories of buildings. Many fires broke out and great suffering was caused by lack of food, shelter and dry clothing. When the waters finally subsided and the city relieved by outside help it was found that scores of lives had been lost and millions of dollars in property destroyed.

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

Mrs. W. J. Wyatt was very pleasantly surprised at her home in Franklin Tuesday evening when the members of the Eureka Club took possession of her residence while she was attending a picture show. On returning she was greatly surprised to find the house all lighted and the merry crowd awaiting her. Mrs. Wyatt was presented with a very fine growing plant, purchased by the members, and the presentation speech was made by C. E. Darling. After a delightful time spent with games and music, a delicious luncheon, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, salads, ice cream, cake and coffee, brought by the self invited guests, was served. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Geer, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. N. Z.
